Chicago Seven Lawyer Asks For Mistrial

CHICAGO (AP) — A jury entered its fifth day of deliberating the case of seven men charged with riot conspiracy today while defense counsel planned arguments for a mistrial and a declaration that the jury is deadlocked.

The 10 women and 2 men on the U.S. District Court jury recessed after dinner Tuesday their discussion of the evidence against the defendants, accused of conspiracy to cross state lines and incite rioting during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Ask Hearing

Attorneys William M. Kunstler and Leonard I. Weinglass filed a motion asking for a mistrial late Tuesday and requested an immediate hearing.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman was not in chambers and shortly after the motion was handed to his clerk, the jury retired for the night.

Kunstler later told newsmen he hoped to argue the motion today.

Kunstler said he did not think the defense was pressuring the jury by making the motion.

Judge Hoffman said last week that he might, if the jury appeared deadlocked, call them in and instruct them to retire once more and try to reach a decision.

Kunstler contends this would be applying judicial pressure on the jury.

"Would Be Miracle"

He said he still believed that the jurors would bargain and compromise with the result that "some will be convicted, others will be acquitted or the jury will hang (deadlock) on all of them."

"It would be a miracle if all were acquitted," he said, adding that members of "a middle-class jury such as this" might "feel they are protecting the country from revolution, that they are safeguarding the youth of the country."

Kunstler faces a sentence of 4 years and 13 days for contempt and Weinglass has been sentenced to 20 months and 5 days, but Judge Hoffman has stayed execution of their sentences until May 4 so they can function as lawyers in appealing the sentences of the defendants.

U-D Protestors To Stand Trial

DETROIT (AP) — Judge William L. Taft, Monroe district judge sitting in Recorder's Court, ruled Tuesday that 17 University of Detroit protestors must stand trial on charges of trespass.

The 16 students and one University employee were arrested Jan. 22 after refusing to vacate a university office. The 17 were protesting the presence of a Navy recruiting team on campus.

After a series of meetings Tuesday with Spencer, House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, and Rep. William Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills, indicated separately that the hope now is simply to patch together a compromise draft that can be forwarded to a conference committee of the two houses.

"I don't think there are the votes to pass this bill now," Hampton said, "but we have to get school aid out of here. It's creating a logjam." Although between 60 and 70 legislators voted for Spencer's proposal on a preliminary roll call last week, Hampton said he doubted if many of those early supporters still would go along with the massive tax increases.

Hanoi Holds Key To Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon told Congress Wednesday the key to peace in South Vietnam lies in Hanoi's willingness to conduct serious give-and-take negotiations leading toward a compromise settlement.

"Hanoi will find us forthcoming and flexible," he declared in his first State of the World report on U.S. foreign policy for the 1970s.

Nixon announced the formation of a high-level Vietnam special studies group headed by Dr. Henry Kissinger, the President's assistant on national security affairs, to make a systematic analysis on a continuous basis of U.S. programs and activities in Vietnam.

This group will seek the answer to searching questions, Nixon said, including the major problem of whether the Viet-namization program will succeed.

He described Vietnamization as a spur, but not a substitute for negotiations.

The program includes not only strengthening the armed forces of South Vietnam in numbers, equipment, leadership and combat skills, but also an extension of the pacification program.

He said the Nixon administration is now attempting to determine the depth and durability of the progress which has been made in Vietnam.

In citing tasks for the future, Nixon gave top priority to persuading North Vietnam to join in genuine negotiations leading to a compromise settlement which would assure the South Vietnamese self-determination and also insure the continued neutrality of Laos.

The President also pledged to work for a freer flow of capital and trade among nations, to promote international cooperation in expanding communications and knowledge, and to support the United Nations. He declared, too, his readiness to negotiate with Eastern European nations on establishing more normal relations at whatever pace they prefer.

Labels "Doctrine" Nixon's foreign policy statement, which overrode one that had been planned at the State Department and replaced such documents issued in former years by the Defense Department, was built around his own speeches of the past year and quoted at length from his own pronouncements.

It officially labeled as the "Nixon doctrine" the policy line he laid down at Guam last year.

Says Safeguard 'Best Response'

By JOHN HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon told Congress today Russia's growing force of intercontinental nuclear missiles has created "a serious threat to our retaliatory capability" and raised grave questions about where the Soviet Union is headed.

In his first State of the World message, Nixon presented his proposed expansion of the Safeguard ballistic missile defense program as the best immediate response to the Soviet buildup.

He expressed hope that eventually he could negotiate a limitation or reduction of nuclear missiles with Russia.

By the end of this year, Nixon reported, Russia will have an estimated 1,590 missiles capable of reaching the American mainland against an estimated 1,710 for the United States. Five years ago, in mid-1965, he said, Russia had only 331 such missiles to 1,398 for the United States. Under the Johnson administration, Nixon said, the United States leveled off missile deployment but the Russians continued building up.

"Serious Questions"

"... The Soviets' present buildup of strategic forces," Nixon said, "together with what we know about their development and test programs, raises serious questions about where they are headed and the potential threats we and our allies face."

The 40,000-word message with a global look at the past year and projections for the future, stressed Nixon's stated intention to go on reducing U.S. involvement in the affairs of other lands, to seek partnership instead of domination in relations with friends and allies, and to try to negotiate peace-preserving agreements with Russia and eventually Red China.

He made these other major points:

—A breakthrough in Vietnam peace negotiations could "come with little warning" but there's no sign it will. The United States remains ready to be "flexible and generous" in negotiations if the Communists ever want to negotiate seriously. Nixon hopes the fighting will continue to decline but has no assurance that it will.

Work For Peace

—The United States will continue to work for peace in the Middle East but can't do the job alone. The United States has warned the Soviet Union and other nations against being drawn "more deeply" into the Arab-Israeli conflict and would be gravely concerned if Russia sought to dominate the area.

—Nixon intends to enlarge U.S. cooperation with Asian nations "as they cooperate with one another and develop regional institutions." Partnership is also the central theme of Nixon policies toward Western Europe and Latin America. In Africa the United States plans to back African efforts for their own development.

The President also pledged to work for a freer flow of capital and trade among nations, to promote international cooperation in expanding communications and knowledge, and to support the United Nations. He declared, too, his readiness to negotiate with Eastern European nations on establishing more normal relations at whatever pace they prefer.

Labels "Doctrine"

Nixon's foreign policy statement, which overrode one that had been planned at the State Department and replaced such documents issued in former years by the Defense Department, was built around his own speeches of the past year and quoted at length from his own pronouncements.

B52s Stage First Strikes Into Laos

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombing raids in South Vietnam were halted for 36 hours Tuesday and today while America's biggest bombers went into action for the first time against North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao troops threatening the Laotian Plan of Jars, informed sources reported.

The U.S. Command refused to comment on the report, but its communications did not report any B52 strikes in South Vietnam during the 36 hours that ended at noon today.

Smaller American fighter-bombers were reported to have attacked North Vietnamese forces around the Plain of Jars on Sunday, and the B52s are used frequently against North Vietnamese supply depots farther east in Laos which feed troops and war materials into South Vietnam. But this was the first report of their use in direct support of Laotian government forces.

The attacking force has made steady progress and has recaptured a number of outposts around the plateau. Reports from Vientiane Tuesday said government troops were regrouping on the west side of the plain while American air strikes were hindering the North Vietnamese advance.

Sources in Vientiane said about 200 North Vietnamese troops, backed by four tanks, attacked the airfield in the Plain of Jars today but the Laotian government forces repulsed them. It was the third attack on the air field reported since the offensive began.

Simultaneously, American sources in Vientiane reported, 10 terrorists broke through the barbed wire around the airstrip at Long Cheng, the key base for U.S. logistic and advisory forces in northern Laos, killed a sentry and destroyed a Laotian army observation plane. Three of the terrorists were killed, the sources said.

Long Cheng, 80 miles north of Vientiane and 35 miles from the Plain of Jars, is the headquarters of Gen. Vang Pao, whose CIA-backed army of Meo tribes-have to talk into voting with them.

But Senate Minority Leader George Fitzgerald, D - Grossette, called the bill "dead."

"This is no time for any State Legislature to be passing free-wheeling, easy - credit bills — when we've heard so much about inflation," he said. "We're discussing loosening up the reins while the entire country is talking about tightening them," he thundered at colleagues.

Fitzgerald noted President Nixon's attempts to curb inflation and told Republicans "when you vote for this bill, you're voting against your own President's policy."

Senate Rejects Small Loan Bill

LANSING (AP) — Backers of a controversial small loans bill moved today to reverse their surprise defeat at the hands of colleagues who said the measure would be "a blow to reasonable consumer protection."

Members rejected the bill 21-12 Tuesday, but Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, called for reconsideration of the vote Monday night.

The Senate was to convene at 10 a.m. today.

A similar loans bill — hiking the ceiling for short-term, small loans from $1,000 to $3,500 — first tasted defeat in the Senate last year, but a reconsideration turned the tables and the bill passed 21-11.

Gov. William Milliken vetoed that bill as containing provisions "contrary to consumer interests."

"We'll have the votes Monday," predicted several supporters, who pointed to the fact that four senators had voted "yes," but switched to "no" when it appeared the bill was not going to pass. Those four pushed the "yes" total to 17, leaving only three more whom backers would

Planners Reject Multi-Family Use In New Plat

The Escanaba Planning Commission in special meeting Tuesday rejected 4 to 3 an aspect of multi-family use in a proposed new Goulais Subdivision plat, basically because some members were unsatisfied when they were told that no definite plans for the multi-family structures had been made.

Chairman Henry Wylie conducted the meeting. The motion to accept the plat (which had brought a split vote at a subsequent meeting) was made by Commissioner Leo Alperovitz seconded by Commissioner Roger Murray.

They and Commissioner John LaBranche voted for acceptance of the plat which includes an area for multi-family use.

Voting against the motion were Chairman Wylie and Commissioners Jack Winters, George Miller and Matt Smith.

No Definite Plan
William DeHaan, appearing before the commission on behalf of the revised Goulais plat, had earlier told the commission that a portion (Lot 1) is asked for designation for multi-family use.

Rezoning is unnecessary, he said, and the Commission has it within its power to designate use in unplatted areas.

Commissioner Jack Winters said that he lives in the area and that he has "a very personal interest" in the subject, excused himself from the commission at the prior meeting and did not vote on the motion.

Chairman Wylie said that he believes the Goulais Subdivision No. 2 should be developed in its entirety "in the same spirit" in which development has taken place in the No. 1 addition, namely, single family use.

James Christensen, resident of the Walch Addition, asked what type of buildings would be erected in the multi-family area and was told by DeHaan that "no definite plans for the type of building that would be erected" have been made.

Trailer Court Okayed
A discussion of the subject of requiring underground utilities for all new subdivisions was held and the Commission will recommend to the City Council that the subdivision ordinance be changed to require that utilities such as electric, phone, TV cable, and others usually overheard, be required to be placed underground in new subdivisions in the future.

The Commission at the special meeting Tuesday approved a preliminary layout for Phil & Lee's Trailer Court.

A site development plan for 120 additional units to the Mobile Homes Trailer Court had been presented to the Commission. The plan presented called for development of 74,100 square feet.

Approval was granted by the Commission with some minor changes, and the developers are proceeding with final plans for the expanded trailer court.

Mack Asks New Policy On Salaries, Expenses

LANSING (AP)—The touchy topic of legislators' pay and expense allowances has cropped up in Lansing again, with a bill pending in the Senate and an announcement that the State Officers Compensation Commission will meet early next month to discuss the issue.

The Senate bill, sponsored by Sen. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, would provide that new determinations regarding legislative expenses would be retroactive to Jan. 1 of the year in which the decision was made.

U. P. Complains

If the commission were to decide this September, for instance, that the current $3,000 expense ceiling should be higher, lawmakers presumably would be allowed to claim their over $3,000 expenses for all of the year from Jan. 1, 1970.

Mack and other Upper Peninsula lawmakers have contended that the present allowance is not sufficient to cover their travel costs—let alone any expenses they have for food and lodging.

The commission last August refused to adjust legislative mileage allowances during members' terms, although a specific amendment to the law to permit this was passed.

The commission said at that time that it would meet this year for "unhurried examination, a sound and deliberate determination" on what to do about expenses.

That meeting now is set for March 3, the commission announced Tuesday.

State Personnel Director Franklin DeWald, commission

secretary, said members would "consider procedural matters and receive initial accounting reports of legislative expenses."

Salary $15,000

Established in 1968, the commission set legislative salaries at $15,000 per year. They also established an accountable allowance of up to $20 per session day for food and lodging, and 10 cents per mile for mileage between the capitol and the legislator's home district, with a maximum of $3,000 per lawmaker.

Last August, one lawmaker said his expense account already was nearly empty. Rep. Robert Davis, R-St. Ignace, said only $260 of his $3,000 was left. "Pretty soon that will be gone, and I'll be traveling on my own money," he said.

DAR Girls Named:

List Awards For Good Citizenship

The Lewis Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, today announced names of five Delta County high school senior girls who will be honored for their good citizenship activities.

Since 1934 the DAR has sponsored the good citizenship contest in accredited high schools throughout the country. Each school selects a senior girl regardless of race, creed, or nationality who best exemplifies the qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

The winner in each state receives a $150 bond and the national winner a $1,000 scholarship. Last year 256 Michigan schools participated in the contest.

In announcing the Delta County winners, the DAR reported that it will host the five young women and their mothers at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the House of Ludington on Saturday, Feb. 21. At that program, each girl will be presented with a certificate and a pin in recognition of her selection as "Good Citizen Girl" of her school.

The girls and their schools are:

Escanaba Area High School—June Suriano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Suriano. She is a member of the Pep Club, Future Teachers, Concert Band, Concert Choir and Escanaba Chorus; and serves as secretary of the Student Council and was co-chairman of the students' Delta United Services drive.

Holy Name High School—Constance Schoen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schoen. She is a National Honor Society member, editor of their literary magazine, is active in the Pep Band, Concert Band, debate team; is vice president of the Student Council; and sings in the choir and is CCD instructor at St. Joseph's Church.

Gladstone High School—Kathy Madden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Madden. She is active in 4-H Club and will represent 4-H at the National 4-H Congress in Washington in April; she was 4-H queen and U. P. State Fair queen; is a member of Future Nurses, dramatics club, forensics, and Pep Club, is on the staff of the school newspaper and yearbook; and serves as her class president.

Rapid River High School—Gretchen Kaukola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Holmquist. She is senior class president; treasurer of the Student Council; member of the Yearbook staff, forensics club, and is an honor student. She is a member of Calvary Lutheran Church Choir and its youth organization.

Rock High School—Pamela Sharkey, daughter of Mrs. Betty Sharkey. She is co-editor of the high school newspaper; is a member of the band, pep club, school chorus, the 4-H Club and forensics.

Re-Elected

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Association of Polygraph Examiners has re-elected Lynn Marcy of Detroit as president for the current year. Other officers named were John Kirkpatrick, of the Macomb County Sheriff's Department, vice president; Detective Sgt. Richard North, of the Detroit State Police, treasurer; and Detective Sgt. Stephen Cloonan, of the Rockford State Police, secretary.

North Western Arraignment Is Set For Feb. 24

Arraignment in District Court of the Chicago & North Western Railway on charges of creating a nuisance in the operation of its iron ore terminal in Escanaba is scheduled for the morning of Tuesday, Feb. 24.

Complaints were signed by three North Escanaba residents on Tuesday and issuance of warrants was authorized by City Attorney Robert E. Lemire, proceeding under a City of Escanaba ordinance for the control of noise, odors, dust and other nuisances.

Delta District Court Judge Dean Shipman issued the warrants and in court heard legal counsel for the North Western Railway request time to study the city ordinance, which the Railway is charged with violating. The date of Feb. 24 was set for arraignment, at 10 a. m.

The complaints were signed by Mike Kolich, 1330 Sheridan Rd., Earl Reno, 1406 N. 16th St., and Joe Sabor, 1809 N. 16th St.

They were among about 40 North Escanaba residents who said they wanted to sign complaints against the railroad, and were told that three would be sufficient for the purpose.

The Delta County Save Our Air Committee has indicated its intention of seeking a Circuit Court injunction requiring the North Western to cease and desist its pollution in the operation of its ore terminal; and has said that individual suits for damages by North Escanaba residents will be forthcoming.

VFW To Lose Detroit Offices

DETROIT (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) will be evicted from their offices in Detroit's Veteran's Memorial Building next week.

The city ordered a 100 per cent increase in rent and the VFW has refused to pay it. The Civic Center Commission raised the rent from $54 to $110 because the building ran a $250,000 deficit last year. An eviction notice sets Feb. 28 as the termination date.

The office represents 18,506 veterans in 88 posts in the Detroit area, which pay a maximum of $20 per post.

Kenneth Toushak, Department Head For City, Dies

Kenneth A. Toushak, 54, of 400 S. 8th St. died at 9:30 a. m. today at his home, apparently of a heart attack. He was superintendent of public works for the City of Escanaba.

He was born Jan. 24, 1916 in Escanaba and was a graduate of Escanaba Area High School. He attended Michigan Technological University at Houghton and also served with the U. S. Marine Corps during World War II. Mr. Toushak was a member of the VFW.

Mr. Toushak began employment with the City of Escanaba in August of 1942. In April of 1954 was named street superintendent and in July of 1966 became director of city public works.

He is survived by his widow, Rose of Escanaba; one son, Dennis of Escanaba; two sisters, Mrs. John Bartel of Rte. 1, Bark River, and Mrs. Katherine Vergiels of Escanaba; three brothers, Clarence and Charles Toushak of Escanaba and Francis of Gary, Ind.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p. m. Thursday and funeral services will be conducted at 11 a. m. Friday at the funeral home chapel with the Rev. Stephen Mayrand of Menominee officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

The Dominican Republic's capital, Santo Domingo, is the oldest European city in the Western Hemisphere. It was established in 1496 and its university, first in the Americas, was founded in 1538.

Enstrom Closes

The Detroit Free Press not long ago published a lengthy account of the R. J. Enstrom Corp.'s helicopter factory in Menominee under a headline that read "Can Enstrom Corp. Make It?"

That question was answered last Wednesday when Pacific Airmotive Corp., a division of Purex, owner of the R. J. Enstrom Corp., announced that the firm would close.

The announcement came as a shock to residents of Menominee, where the Enstrom Corp. has operated since it was organized in December, 1959. Just the other day, Andreas Asstad, Enstrom's marketing vice president, said he expected "the greatest demand ever for Enstrom's T-28 turbopropeller," "the world's only three-place, turbine-powered helicopter."

Instead, the Enstrom plant has been closed and Purex officials have said the decision is final. Menominee thus has lost an annual payroll of more than $1 million. Eighty people have lost their jobs. The dream of John J. Christensen, organizer and first president of the Enstrom Corp., and the 9,000 founding stockholders lies shattered.

"The close down decision has been made because of the failure of sales to materialize from the Enstrom operation and the consequent losses which have resulted have created a continuing profit and cash drain," the announcement by Purex stated.

The corporation's brief history has been star-crossed. In 1962, one of the two choppers that had been built by then in the Menominee plant plummeted to earth, killing the test pilot. Production rose very slowly, reaching five choppers a month early in 1969 and only seven when the plant was closed, far below the 20 choppers a month that Purex had set as a minimum for three years hence. After 10 years of business, the corporation had produced only 64 helicopters and sold 54 of them. By 1968, when Purex acquired the firm, Enstrom Corp. had lost about $1 million. (At the time of the sale, incidentally, Purex stock was at $35. It closed Monday at $15 1/2 a share.) Last fall, the company lost a contract it had with Brazil and cut its work force from 165 to 80.

Following announcement that the plant would be closed, Christensen was reported to have said that four companies are interested in buying Enstrom from Purex, but he did not identify the firms. Purex officials said they will offer the assets of the firm for sale, but not the corporate structure. Included in the assets would be the certification by the Federal Aviation Administration.

Closing of the Enstrom operation follows a strange and unfortunate pattern that has emerged in Upper Peninsula industry in recent years. It is a pattern of absorption of a smaller industry by a giant industry, followed by the extinction of the smaller industry. The cycle was repeated a number of times in the last decade.

The most recent until now was the acquisition of the Cliffs Dow Chemical Co. in Marquette by Royal Oak Charcoal Corp and the closing of this plant — the city's largest industrial employer — last year.

Earlier, Universal Oil Products acquired Calumet & Hecla, one of the oldest industries in the Upper Peninsula and not long thereafter permanently halted all C&H mining in the Copper Country following a long and bitter strike. Great Lakes Toys in Iron River was sold to the nationally known corporation called Playskool with the understanding that the plant would remain in operation in the Upper Peninsula. But Playskool itself was purchased by an even larger toy manufacturing corporation, Milton Bradley, and that company decided to close the Iron River plant.

Oxford Paper Co. was actively interested in building a large paper mill on Lake Superior northwest of Munising — until the company was acquired by Ethyl Corp., one of the conglomerates. Soon it was announced that plans for the mill had been abandoned.

Upper Peninsula citizens should be forgiven if they became a bit apprehensive when they hear that one of the huge corporations is considering acquiring an industry above the Straits.

Gatorade Case

Five doctors who developed the popular thirst-quenching drink Gatorade in their spare time are discovering the pitfalls of working under government grants.

Concocting the formula for the drink required only about 20 minutes, according to its creators, who at the time were working at the University of Florida. To their mixture Stokely-Van Camp, Inc., added a palatable flavor, and Gatorade was born.

Used first by the university's football team, the Florida Gators, the product was placed on the market and won almost instant acceptance. The doctors were on the verge of becoming millionaires.

To the doctors' misfortune, however, it happened that at the time they developed the drink they were working under government grants for kidney transplant research. Time spent on the drink was not even remotely connected with their government work, but that did not prevent the government from claiming ownership of Gatorade.

After Gatorade's financial success became apparent, the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare declared it owns the formula because the doctors developed it while working under federal research grants.

The case is now headed for an airing in the courts, where both the doctors and the government claim ownership.

The outcome is certain to be watched with interest, for it raises the question of whether persons working for the government retain any freedom at all.

Businessman Crusades For Control Of Crime

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Some 10,000 Americans have emigrated to Australia. Most of them have taken a good bit of liquid capital with them; one estimate has it that the average sum for a single man is $6,000, while the married man's "relocation fund" has been $12,000.

Why do such able people, who might contribute much to our economy, desert the U. S., the historic "land of opportunity," for a new horizon in Australia? Over and over it is repeated: "I want to be able to walk safely on a street at night."

That is what crime is doing to the United States, driving more and more capable and talented citizens out of the country. The narcotics problem is at the base of much of the trouble; it has been said that half the crime in New York City can be traced to junkies who are desperately in need of money for a "fix."

So the simple answer to the problem is "wipe out the drug traffic."

But the simple answer, according to H. Ladd Plumley, a Worcester, Mass., insurance executive and former head of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce who has headed an emergency crime prevention committee of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, doesn't solve much by itself. Knowing that I had written columns about the interest of the American businessman in saving the country, a friend recommended Plumley to me as the most eloquent champion of the "complex answer to an unsimple question." I found him to be just that.

Plumley's crusade is to involve communities in what he calls "the total approach" to the crime problem. You just don't cut crime in half by doubling the police force.

The job of preventing crime is similar to that of controlling floods: if you begin far upstream, by soaking up the runoff at the rivulet stage, you avoid the necessity of building costly downstream dams that don't stop the floods anyway.

One of the upstream areas, says Plumley, is the public schools, specifically the first and second grades. With proper psychiatric help the maladjusted among the young can be identified without a great deal of trouble.

But, says Plumley, our schoolteachers aren't trained psychiatrists. What we need to do is to begin with the school committees in the towns, making them realize that providing for the identification and treatment of problem children in the earliest grades would save society much anguish, and the taxpayers much money, later on.

It costs the community $6,000 a year to maintain a man in prison. Once he is there, the cost has to be met until it is safe to let him return to society. But numerous adolescents end up in jail by various routes for "truancy and family disciplinary problems that would not be criminal if engaged in by an adult."

Plumley finds it horrifying to contemplate that "in our juvenile courts 20 per cent of the judges are not even lawyers and 80 per cent of the courts lack even primary diagnostic aids." He warns that "the stigma we thoughtlessly put on the young through police records is a wound that festers more often than it heals."

Assuming that the juvenile courts will not rapidly be improved, what can be done to keep the police record "wounds" from "festering" until they turn the one-time criminal into a chronic repeater?

Plumley says there ought to be many more "halfway houses" that would look after released convicts until they find jobs that will keep them out of trouble. Rehabilitation in prison, Plumley says, now exists in name only.

What he suggests is letting trusted prisoners take jobs outside of jail for terminal periods. They would return to jail at night, but would be allowed to bank their income against the day of complete release. The Massachusetts experience with a "pre-release law," says Plumley, is that men who are able to support themselves are less likely to drift back into crime.

Plumley has about 40 other recommendations for crime prevention and control, many of which can be acted on by even the most casual citizen. For example, if you resist buying "policy" tickets, you keep money from swelling the criminal "gambling take," which now runs to $8 billion a year. The town with well-lighted streets will have less mugging. Etc., etc. And, as a 41st recommendation, we need more businessmen to join hands with Plumley in his crusade.

Pollution Seminar

MIDLAND (AP)—Dow Chemical Co. held a seminar Tuesday on what the company could be doing to help fight pollution. Dow managers heard speakers including Dr. John Canton, provost of Michigan State University; Louis Agnello, an editor of Chemical and Engineering News; and David Allan, a co-chairman of ENACT, a University of Michigan student environmental protection group. Dow said its president, H.D. Doan, would speak March 13 at a teach-in at U-M on the root causes of the environmental crisis.

Opening lead—jack of clubs. It is self-evident that whenever declarer has a choice of ways to play a hand, he should select the line of play that is most likely to succeed.

Every declarer worth his salt follows this principle. Usually, some kind of diagnosis on how the defenders' cards are divided is involved. If declarer lacks direct information on this point, he bases his plays on simple probabilities.

Here is a case where declarer failed to follow the indicated probability and lost the contract as a result. He won the club lead with the ace, drew two rounds of trumps, and finessed the queen of spades. The queen lost to the king, and South later lost two clubs and a diamond to go down one.

In effect, South gave himself a 50% chance for the contract by playing East for the king of spades. But he missed a different method of play that offered a far better chance.

After winning the ace of clubs, he should have led the A-Q of spades. West would take the queen and the defense would presumably cash two club tricks and return a diamond.

Declarer wins with the ace, leads a heart to the eight, ruffs a spade high, leads a heart to the nine, and ruffs another spade high, establishing dummy's fifth spade as a trick. A trump to dummy's queen then permits South to discard his jack of diamonds on the eight of spades.

This method of play, for practical purposes, allows South to make the contract whenever the spades are divided 3-3 (36%) or 4-2 (48%).

The 84% chance of making the hand by relying on a favorable spade division is far more attractive than the 50% chance of East's having the king of spades. Declarer treats the hand as though he had A-x of spades instead of A-Q.

SALES PITCH

I am writing about two salesmen who were selling vacuum cleaners about a year and a half ago in Gladstone (where we were living at the time). We bought one which we couldn't really afford at the time, but we were told that if we gave them (the salesmen) names of our friends and relatives that we would get money for every sale and demonstration they made.

I know for sure they sold three vacuums and gave several demonstrations from the names I gave them, but I've never received a penny from them. They told me that I would be able to pay for my vacuum cleaner this way. I counted on that.

I am not knocking the vacuum cleaner. It is everything they promised and I would not part with mine, but it is legal to promise people something that you don't expect to give? Should I go to the Chamber of Commerce with this problem? I know of other women who got gyped the same way. Come on ladies, let's get after them.

Prince Warns Of Overpopulation

LONDON (AP) — Britons could become "antisexual" if the population explosion is not curbed, Prince Philip says.

Philip said in a recorded television program recently that unless the problem is tackled now "we shall arrive at a situation of overcrowding which will be so unpleasant."

"If you overwork rats, they get all sorts of ghastly things happening to them—their whole social structure breaks down for one thing."

"They develop antisocial tendencies. Oh, I mean awful things happen—and there's no reason to suppose that something like that won't happen to us if we let it."

Ann Landers

Poor Vision Should Not Rate Handicap

Dear Ann Landers: I know you are not a miracle worker, but I have read your column for years. If anyone can help me, you can.

I was born with 20 per cent vision. I'm sorry I wasn't born completely blind. Life would be easier. I wear thick glasses which are ugly. I can imagine how I look to people who see me through these hideous things. They magnify my eyes and I must look like a freak.

No one realizes how bad my sight is until I walk into a wall or drop something and can't pick it up without some awkward movements. I have very few friends because people don't want to be around anyone who is so clumsy. I've had a few dates but the boys don't call back. I'm very lonely and have nothing to live for.

Please forgive the writing. It's the best I can do. Help me if you can.—Unhappy Friend

Dear Friend: Your problem isn't your eyes—it's your rock-bottom opinion of yourself. Millions of blind people would give anything to have 20 per cent vision. The fact you'd rather be completely sightless suggests that you would welcome an excuse to cop out.

There are many organizations for blind and partially blind people. Write to the Chicago Lighthouse for the Blind and learn what you can do to help yourself. The address is: 1850 West Roosevelt Road, Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Ann Landers: What can be done about my sister, Sarah, who is driving every one in this house crazy? I am 15. Sarah is 17.

She quit her after-school job two months ago because her grades were so bad. Now she thinks she should be excused from all household so she can study. Sarah practically lives in the bathroom. I can't figure out what she does in there for two hours at a time.

Every night it's the same routine. Mom calls Sarah to dinner five times. She always answers, "I'll be right down." Finally Mom has to go get her. When Her Royal Highness deigns to honor us with her presence, she has a long face and is mad at the world.

I usually end up doing her work and my Mom apologizes for her laziness. I'd like to give that spoiled brat a good hard slap and take my punishment. Any suggestions on how to improve this situation? — Frustrated

Dear Frus: Slapping Her Majesty won't help. My advice is to keep doing your work — and hers, if necessary. Be thankful you are you and not your sister. The girl is destined to be an unhappy, unproductive person unless she gets some counseling.

Jaycees To Hear Young Lawmaker

Congressman Donald W. Riegle, Republican, Flint, will speak at the Escanaba Area Jaycees Distinguished Service Awards banquet to be held March 7.

At the DSA banquet program three men from this area will be honored by the Jaycees for outstanding accomplishments in agriculture, education, and community service, in keeping with the last line of the Jaycees creed: "Service to humanity is the best work of life."

Congressman Riegle, on Nov. 8, 1966, at the age of 28, was elected to the 90th Congress and won re-election to his second term in 1968.

Riegle is a member of Committee on Foreign Operations, and District of Columbia Subcommittees, as well as being the youngest man ever appointed to the House Appropriations Committee, and a leader in the successful House drive to create a permanent Ethics Committee.

Robert Bink, who arranged for Riegle to speak to this year's Distinguished Service Awards banquet, said, "We are very fortunate to have for our speaker, a man who in 1967 was not only selected by The Nation magazine as one of two 'best

Congressman Riegle

Congressmen for the year," but in that same year was selected by the United States Jaycees as one of the "Ten Outstanding Young Men of the Nation."

Riegle was appointed by President Johnson to represent the United States at the inauguration of the new President of Brazil, Costa Silva; has appeared on nation-wide television specials by CBS and NBC; and has been described by the Christian Science Monitor as a member of a "power elite" leadership group among freshmen Republicans.

Riegle's most intense area of work has been the Vietnam war. In November of 1967 the Washington Post said of Riegle's Vietnam work, "Despite his lack of seniority, status, and renown, Riegle is making a significant contribution to the process that must precede any intelligent re-appraisal of American policy in Vietnam."

Due to the popularity of Riegle, people are encouraged to get tickets early. Tickets are available at Ernie's Party Store, Gust Asp's, or from any Jaycee. Cochairmen for this year's banquet are Dick Perlick and Ralph Peterson.

Obituary

GEORGE BEAUDRY

Complete funeral services for George Beaudry were held at 10 a. m. today at the Skradski Funeral Home with Msgr. Matt LaViolette officiating. Burial was in Fernwood Cemetery. Military rites were conducted by the August Matson American Legion Post.

New Service For Smokers

The local Action Unit for Better Living of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church announced today that it is sponsoring a service for persons who want to stop smoking.

Beginning today, smokers can dial 786-0287 and listen to a 60-second informative recording designed to help the smoker make a decision. The message will also tell them how to break their habit.

Smokers Dial is an extension of the internationally recognized "Five-Day Plan To Stop Smoking" which has already been successfully conducted in major cities across the country. It is specifically designed to help people who have already quit smoking.

Roger Mayrand, 27, Brookfield, Wis., suffered multiple facial lacerations when the snowmobile he was riding struck a pile of ice causing him to strike his face on the steering column. The accident occurred on the Ford River about one half mile west of County Rd. 533 late Monday night, State Police reported. Mayrand was taken to St. Francis Hospital where he was treated and released.

Assign Priests To New Posts

MARQUETTE—New assignments, effective March 3, made by The Most Rev. Bishop Charles A. Salatk of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Marquette, were announced today.

In order of seniority they are:

Fr. T. Lester Bourgeois, pastor of St. Mary and Joseph, Iron Mountain, succeeds Father Donnelly as rector of Marygrove, and heads the Diocesan Renewal Program.

Fr. Henry L. Mercier, from pastor, Sacred Heart, DeTour, with mission of St. Florence, Drummond Island, to pastor, St. Joseph, Lake Linden and chaplain, Gratiot Radar Station.

Fr. Clifford Nadeau, pastor of St. Joseph's, Lake Linden, becomes pastor of Sacred Heart, Schaffer. Fr. Vincent Ouellette, who has served as pastor at Schaffer since the death of Fr. C. J. Mark, moves to residence at St. Anne's of Escanaba. He continues as superintendent of Holy Name Central High School.

Fr. J. August Franczek, former Perronville pastor, becomes pastor at Sacred Heart, Ewen, and its missions at Trout Creek and Sidnaw.

Fr. James L. Donnelly, rector of Marygrove Retreat

House, Garden, succeeds Father Bourgeois as pastor of Sts. Mary and Joseph, Iron Mountain.

Fr. William Richards of Ewen succeeds Father Donnelly as rector of Marygrove, and heads the Diocesan Renewal Program.

Boys and girls in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades of the public and parochial schools who plan to take part are asked to report to Erwood Slade, clerk of the meet, shortly before race time.

yards. The first four finishers of each race will receive ribbons and emblems will be awarded to the high point winners of each school.

Only the contestants for each event will be allowed on the ice and youngsters waiting for their turn will not be permitted on the course. The general public is invited to attend and watch the races from the record-high snowbanks around the rink.

The Webster skating rink shelter house will be closed Saturday afternoon because of the Playday.

The first temperance society in the British colonies was probably that formed at Beaver River, Nova Scotia, in April 1828.

Student Boycott Of Classes Voted

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Students at Kalamazoo College have voted to stage a two-day strike to protest suspension of a student for having a girl in his room after hours.

Weiner Hicks, college president, suspended William Lakey, of Mount Pleasant, for the remainder of this quarter and all of the next. He will be permitted to apply for readmission next July.

The students voted 538 to 210 to boycott classes Wednesday and Thursday. There are some 1,400 students at Kalamazoo College.

Ski Meet Blanks Still Available

Youngsters and adults who plan to compete in the ski meet at the Danforth Ski Hill on Sunday, Feb. 22, are reminded to pick up their registration blanks at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center before Saturday of this week. Completed blanks should be turned in at the hill either Saturday or Sunday afternoon.

The meet is sponsored by the recreation department and will be conducted under the direction of Thor Papineau, ski hill manager, along with supervisors Mike Nelson, Joe Vogel and Paul Woolford.

First place finishers will be awarded medals with ribbons going to skiers who wind up in second and third place. High point winners will receive trophies. Contestants will be required to use proper skiing equipment which must be in good working order.

Paper Industry Program Topic At Rotary Club

"What's So Special About Paper?" was the subject of a sound color movie program presented to the Escanaba Rotary Club by Robert Barron, Mead Corp. personnel department, at the club's luncheon meeting Tuesday noon.

The movie depicted the importance of the paper industry to the people and to the economy of the nation, and described the opportunities for careers in paper manufacturing.

The use of paper as an indicator of progress and economic wealth was noted in the statistic that people of the United States use an average of 550 pounds of paper per person, compared to the average of 3 pounds per person in India.

The program was introduced by Thomas Straebel, Rotary Club president, who conducted the meeting.

True Sportsmanship Stressed At Games

By STEVE STORY
Community School Director

Escanaba's 70 member delegation to the 1970 Community School Winter Games held recently in Menominee returned home with eight 1st places, six 2nd places and three 3rd places.

In the basketball competition, Escanaba's senior high team ventured all the way into the finals of their division Sunday before bowing to a stronger Gwinn team 49-29. Saturday competition showed Escanaba defeating Ironwood, 50-36, in the opening tilt and Ontonagon 42-26 in the semi-final action Saturday evening. Members of Escanaba's team include Steve Rolig, Steve Henslee, Mark Meunier, Ken Peterson, Mike Beck, Ed Gafner and Bob Thlenfeldt.

The junior high school boys basketball team was defeated by one point in their opening game by Menominee 21-20. Menominee eventually won the Jr. high school division by defeating Gwinn and Marquette, respectively. Ernie Murray, Ken Lueneburg, Randy Johnson, Larry Beauchamp, Bill Beck, Bob Dupont, Eric Plowman and Robert Reiffers represented Escanaba.

during a Pacific trip that the U.S. wanted no more Vietnamese and was cutting its involvement in Asia while promoting Asian self-help.

Nixon titled the paper "United States Foreign Policy for the 1970's—A New Strategy for Peace" and keyed it to the idea that the cold war days of conflict with Russia are fading and that negotiations are opening up.

"Policy For Decade"

"This," the President told reporters in a meeting at the White House Monday, "is the most comprehensive statement on foreign and defense policy ever made in this country."

He also called it a "policy for a decade" and said it marked a watershed in the life of the nation because it shows a shift from the policies of the past—to the policies of the future.

Yet in those sections dealing with the Soviet Union Nixon repeatedly raised questions about whether the leaders in Moscow were playing a different diplomatic game—seeking ends other than those of accommodations. At times he professed puzzlement.

Specific Complaints

The United States has made some progress on negotiations with Russia since he took over, he said, but "our over-all relationship with the USSR remains far from satisfactory."

He voiced these specific complaints:

"To the detriment of the cause of peace, the Soviet Union has failed to exert a helpful influence on the North Vietnamese in Paris."

"The overwhelming majority of the war material that reaches North Vietnam comes from the USSR, which thereby bears a heavy responsibility for the continuation of the war . . ."

"In the Middle East talks we have not seen on the Soviet side that practical and constructive flexibility which is necessary for a successful outcome . . ."

"We see evidence, moreover, that the Soviet Union seeks a position in the area as a whole which would make great power rivalry more likely."

Missile Buildup

The grimmest picture he gave in the message—balanced with expressions of hope for the future—was that of the Russian missile buildup. Nixon implied it might be aimed at something more than catching up with the United States. He said questions about Russia's intentions and the threat it poses "must be faced soberly and realistically."

The Soviets, Nixon said, stepped up their missile deployments after 1965 but the Johnson administration decided not to keep pace because, it was argued, (1) Russian parity with U.S. missile power was probably inevitable and (2) U.S. power to hit back if Russia attacked would not be jeopardized by larger Soviet forces about level with those of the United States.

Sought Increase

Russia, he continued, has sought to increase both number and quality—"such as new more accurate warheads and perhaps penetration aids for their Minuteman-type SS-11 missile, continued testing of the multiple warhead for the SS-9, and research and development on improved components for their antiballistic missile ABM system, together with improved coverage by their ABM radars."

At end 1970 estimated—the Soviets: 1290 ICBMs and 300 submarine-launched.

—The United States: 1054 ICBMs and 656 submarine-launched.

Nixon said he believed last March, when he first called for an ABM system, and is "even more convinced today" that Russia presents "a serious threat to our retaliatory capability." To this, he said, must be added the potential threat from Red China when that country builds a nuclear weapons force in a few years.

Nixon repeated that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird will propose the second phase program for ABM development to Congress soon. Other officials said it will go to the Capitol next week.

Bowling

Escanaba came up with one 2nd place and three 3rd place finishes in the two-man bowling competition. Debbie Leonard and Debbie Nevala placed up 3rd place in the elementary girls division while Douglas Krusic and his brother Harold teamed up for a 3rd place in the boys elementary division. Steve Belland and Jim Nevala placed 2nd in the junior high boys division while Judy Johnson and Pat McCarthy picked up a 4th place in the girls division.

Floyd Crawford and Pat McCarthy placed 3rd place in the senior high boys division while Cynthia Derouin and Karen Olsen placed 4th for the senior high girls. High bowler for the Games was Jill Hoffman of Menominee with a three game total of 605.

Marquette and Ironwood dominated the skiing events and none of the Escanaba team of Randy DeGrave, Mike Nelson, Tanya Beecher, Jim Larson, or Judy Pepin were able to break into the three top places in their division.

Volleyball

Escanaba's senior high girls volleyball team tied for 4th place with Ontonagon and Ishpeming while Iron Mountain took first place. Judy Kallio, Annis Cole, Marlene Mattson, Lancour, Mary Steinmetz, Sally SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Pitching ace Denny McLain failed to appear today at a scheduled court hearing in Southfield.

McLain was scheduled to appear at the hearing for alleged nonpayment of rent in a suit filed by his landlords on McLain's home in Beverly Hills.

McLain has not been seen publicly since he met with the National League Baseball Commissioner in New York Friday to discuss "off the field" activities during the 1967 baseball season.

The hearing was originally scheduled for Monday but was postponed until today because court officers had been unable to serve a summons on McLain to appear.

A second summons was issued for today's hearing and when officers again failed to contact McLain personally, they tacked the summons on the door of his Beverly Hills home.

Orland EBNs, an attorney representing McLain, told District Judge Clarence Reid that an out-of-court settlement is being attempted.

Reid rescheduled the case until 10 a.m. Friday, at which time the parties will advise the judge whether such a settlement had been reached.

B52s Stage First Strikes Into Laos

men recaptured the plain for the government last summer.

Elsewhere in Laos, a North Vietnamese Pathet Lao battalion attacked and captured two villages near Pakxane, 89 miles east of Vientiane early Tuesday, the sources said, but government troops recaptured both of them.

U.S. officials in Vientiane have been telling newsmen that the Americans are urging the government to abandon the plain rather than make a determined attempt to hold it. These officials presumably are setting the stage for a retreat of the government forces, but at the same time U.S. air forces are being used in support of the Lao government forces on a larger scale than has ever been reported before.

Sources in Saigon estimated that in the past 36 hours about 60 B52s—four fifths of the Strategic Air Command's fleet assigned to operations in Southeast Asia—attacked North Vietnamese positions in Laos. Their bomb loads totaled 1,800 tons, but there was no indication how many flew against the positions in the Plain of Jars region and how many flew against the border bases.

Dufour and Estelle Larson made up the team.

A first place was taken by Escanaba's adult women's volleyball team. They went undefeated with a 6-0 round-robin record and defeated Iron Mountain for the winner's trophy. The team members were Connie Osier, Donna Hamilton, Pam Johns, Mary Boyle, Donna Young and Sue Berg.

The table tennis competition showed Escanaba's Kim Oliver and Jean Rockman placing 1st and Tom Skradski and Tom Valind picking up 2nd place honors. Gail Taylor and Kris Oseen earned 4th place honors.

In the speed skating competition, Escanaba and Marquette dominated with Escanaba taking 5 first places and Marquette grabbing 6 first places in the 14-event meet.

In the elementary division, 4th grade and under, Jean White placed 1st and Lee Lee-Captain placed 2nd in the 60-yard dash. Sue Flippin placed 1st in the 5-6th grade girls 60-yard dash and Connie McGraw placed 2nd in the 400-yard dash. Bill White placed 2nd in the 5-6th grade boys 60-yard dash and Jerome Lueneberg placed 3rd in the 400-yard dash. Cindy Wagner placed 4th in the junior high girls 400-yard dash and Rick Miller picked up a 1st in the boys 400-yard dash. Doug Koish placed 4th in the boys 60-yard dash for 7-8th grades.

In the senior division Connie LeCaptain placed 1st in the 400 and Dave Nelson took top honors in the 60-yard dash. Matt Neumeier got a third in the 400-yard dash and Sue Winchester placed fourth in the 60-yard dash.

Coaches

Coaching and chaperoning the Escanaba children while at the games were Mr. and Mrs. Chet Evans, Miss Janet Horning, Mr. Ted Besaw, Mr. James Aird, Mr. Ronald Pertile, Mr. John Prokos, Mr. Jim Lindstrom and Mr. Steve Storey.

For many youngsters, the Winter Games was the first opportunity for them to compete against other students. The Winter Games gives the average boy and girl a chance to taste the thrill of victory and the fun of meeting other people. In reality, the idea behind the games is not to stress competition but to build sportsmanship and better human understanding among the young people of the Upper Peninsula.

Check Patients In Triple Killing

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Officials investigating the fatal stabbing of an Army doctor's pregnant wife and their two young children said today they were checking on patients he had treated for drug abuse.

The doctor, Capt. Jeffrey MacDonald, 26, of Patchogue, N.Y., who also was stabbed in their apartment on the post Tuesday, said the family was attacked by a hippie-type band of three men and a girl.

The girl, he said, muttered: "Acid is groovy; kill the pigs."

Acid is a slang term for the hallucinatory drug LSD.

Police reported finding a paring knife and an ice pick which they said might have been used to kill Collette MacDonald, 26, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., and her daughters Kristen Jean, 2, and Kimberly, 6.

In New York, the Daily News quoted MacDonald's grandmother, Wilma M. Perry of Patchogue, as saying Mrs. MacDonald was expecting her third child this summer.

MacDonald, a Green Beret paratrooper, said he was beaten unconscious, but revived later and called the military police. They found him in a bedroom, stabbed in the stomach and chest.

MacDonald said the girl was blonde and wore a floppy hat and boots, and that one of the men wore an Army field jacket with sergeant's stripes.

Jackie Gleason Show On Way Out

MIAMI (AP) — Jackie Gleason may be out of work next television season, but he says, "I really don't care."

CBS-TV announced in New York Monday Gleason's show is not on its fall schedule because of his refusal to add more "Honey-mooner" segments.

"Yeah, they want 60 minutes of Honey-mooners each week. That's too much work, pal," Gleason said in an interview in Miami.

But he said a network vice president, Michael Dann, had told him: "It's not so cut and dried."

Gleason, who has held a Saturday night spot on CBS-TV for eight years added: "I couldn't guess right now whether or not I'll have a show next season. I really don't care."

House, Nixon To Clash On Education Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is heading for another confrontation with President Nixon over education spending following its Rules Committee spurning of a proposed presidential compromise.

The committee refused to clear the way for a House vote on an amendment that would have given Nixon discretion to spend only as much as he wanted on education, regardless of what Congress appropriated.

The Republican-backed amendment was added by the House Appropriations Committee to a new $19.3 billion health-education money bill designed to replace the $19.7 billion measure vetoed by Nixon last month as inflationary. The House will take up the new bill Thursday.

Another Veto

Under House rules, such an amendment would not be in order unless specifically approved by the Rules Committee, and by a 9-6 vote Tuesday the committee refused. The threat of another veto was raised immediately.

Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch, who testified before the committee Tuesday, said failure to include the provision raised a definite possibility of a veto because the bill once again carries more money than Nixon wants.

After his veto was sustained by the House, Nixon said he would accept $449 million of the $1.3 billion Congress added over his budget to the vetoed bill. But the Appropriations Committee boosted that to $814 million and the prospects are for still more additions when the bill reaches the floor.

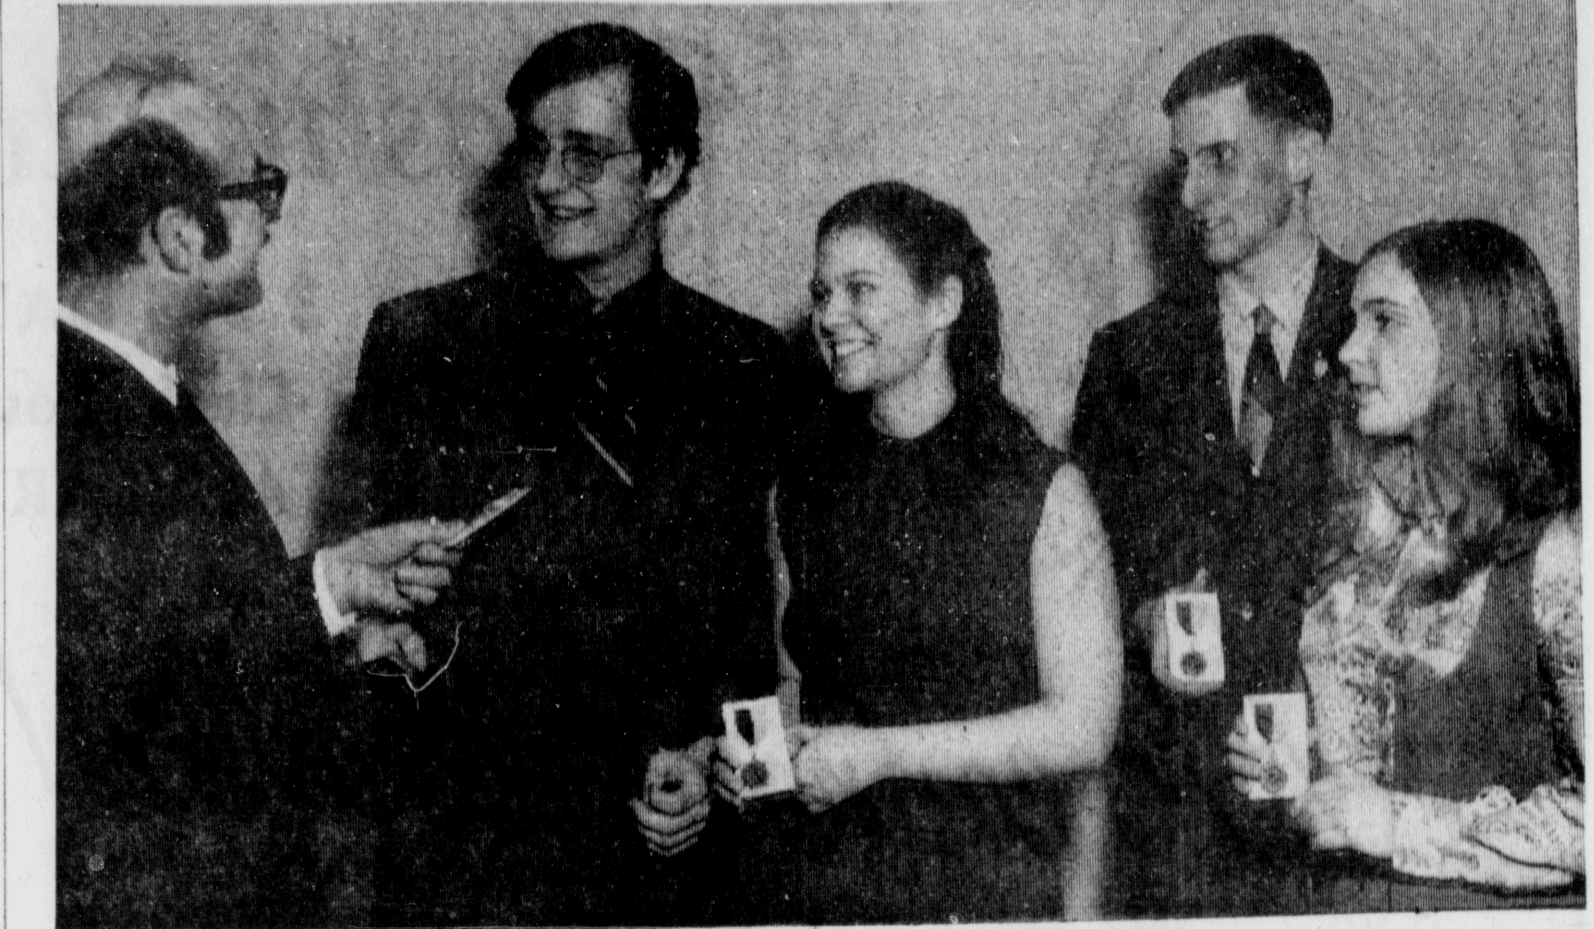

Majority Leader Carl Albert said the Democrats could be deterred by talk of a veto. "Intimidation is not the way to deal with the House," he said. "The members will not be swayed by such a threat. And I think we would have a much better chance to override another veto."

The Rules Committee's refusal to allow discretionary spending authority may have weakened a Republican-Southern Democratic coalition that also added three antischool desegregation amendments. Southerners had agreed to support the discretionary spending amendment in return for GOP votes for their proposals.

The Southern amendments are designed to prohibit HEW from forcing any school district to bus its students as part of a desegregation plan, to give congressional approval for freedom of choice plans, and to deny funds for any plans that would preclude a freedom of choice plan.

Finch, in his rules committee testimony, opposed all three amendments. He said the busing amendment was unnecessary, freedom of choice was unconstitutional, and the third would cause chaos by throwing out most of the plans now in existence.

Finch said his department is already under a strict congressional prohibition against forced busing.

Briefly Told

A cribbage tournament is being started and play will be held Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. at the Escanaba Moose Lodge. For more information call 786-6019 after 5 p.m.

Delta County Camera Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Chamber of Commerce Building. The program will include a lecture and slide presentation on, "A Garden of Pictures." The public is invited and members are to bring food items for the Valentine party.

The Menominee County Library Bookmobile will make the following tours next week: Monday—Powers-Spaulding Village; Tuesday—East Stephenson, Cedar River School, Cedar River; Wednesday—Wallace School; Thursday—East Daggett, Roubal's Nursing Home, Carney Village, Nadeau Village.

Reject Hospital

FLUSHING (AP)—Voters in Genesee County's Flushing School District have rejected a $3.8 million bond issue proposal. Unofficial returns in Tuesday's election showed the proposal defeated 1,980-511. The funds would have gone for the construction of a new junior high school and an addition to an elementary school.

Railroad Has Test For Snowmobilers

Snowmobilers, here's a little test for you:

Imagine that you're the engineer of a train. You're clipping along through snow-covered woods. It's a beautiful day, bright and crisp, windy enough to raise the newest snow and send it in powdery veils across the track. In fact, ahead of you now there's a cloud of blowing snow.

Except that suddenly you see that the cloud isn't blowing snow. It's the rooster tail of a snowmobile. The machine and its driver are on the track, headed the same direction you are.

You shout in alarm to the brakeman across the cab. With one hand you reach out and "dump the air" to set the brakes in emergency. With the other you pull down hard on the horn cord.

But you see that you won't stop in time. The inertia generated by the tons of train behind you is too much. The snowmobiler, muffled against the wind and cold and deafened by his vehicle, hasn't the slightest idea that you're bearing down on him from behind.

Question: What do you do? Answer: You do the only thing left. You hit the snowmobile, as the trains of the Soo unavoidably did a number of times last winter. If you're not so lucky, there'll be a fatality.

to report — and perhaps a de-railled train to pick up.

Mishaps Increase
Now, snowmobilers, consider this: There's an increasing possibility, as indicated by the Soo's records of snowmobile accidents, that just such an incident might actually involve you this winter.

Accordingly, and for the protection of the snowmobile sport as much as for the protection of the Soo, this winter will arrest and prosecute snowmobile trespassers whenever possible. It's a move the Soo believes it must take in view of the growth to critical proportions of a bad public safety situation.

Attractive as they seem to be, railroad rights of way are about the worst possible kind of snowmobile trails. The hazards are sudden and frequently hidden.

Train traffic often increases during winter months, for example. Regular trains are supplemented by snowplows.

Pack 415's Blue And Gold Banquet Attended By 180

A puppet show by Den 4 highlighted the Blue-Gold Banquet held by Pack 415 on Monday.

Newcomers to Escanaba, the Rev. Raymond and Mrs. Peterson were introduced to the Pack. Rev. Peterson recently took over the duties of Christ the King Lutheran Church and gave the opening prayer.

Mayor Cecil Chase spoke to the boys on the opportunities that Escanaba offers them. He also took part in the program by helping select the Crafts Award and was impressed by the gigantic display of projects and fine attendance of 180 people. Mayor Chase received the "Big Chief" award presented by Tom Derusha.

Awards were presented to: James Livermore, Bill Hendrickson, David VanEffen, Mike Rose, Fred Mathias, Greg Peoples, Andy Polowski, James Robitaille, Eric Larson.

Bob Larson, Mike Samuelson, Kirk Schwalbach, Kurt Schwalbach, Mark Samuelson, Joe Krause, James Berube, Tom Derusha, Tom Gustafson.

Ron Henderson, James Stasewich, Joe and John Gorzinski, Pat Pepin, Danny Dubord, James Pratt, David Piquette, Paul Crowe Dewayne Corwin, James Benson, Peri Reese and David LaLonde.

Advanced to Boy Scouts were Ricky Dennison, Robert Pierson, Niel Kaminski and Mike Ottensman.

Proclamations

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has proclaimed April 12-18 as Nurse Week in Michigan, May 1 as Law Day and March 1-7 as S. S. Hope Week.

The S. S. Hope is the American ship providing medical care to needy persons around the world.

Track maintenance vehicles shuttle back and forth on periodic patrols.

Hazards

Tests have demonstrated that the noise of a snowmobile engine is more than sufficient to drown out the air horn of an approaching train. As in the hypothetical example, a train can be upon you before you know it's within miles, unless you happen to see it — and that's too slim a possibility in snow and tall-tree country.

Moreover, the track structure itself provides hazards enough. The tracks cross high bridges and low — but potentially dangerous — culverts. The right of way is dotted with sign standards, markers, and poles. Guard rails, switches and other parts of the track structure lie just beneath the snow crust, out of sight but not out of the reach of snowmobile skis and treads.

And while a snowmobiler himself may escape injury, he could inadvertently and unknowingly cause injury or death to others. Trespassing snowmobiles have, for example, severed the wires which control highway crossing signals and left motorists without protection against approaching trains.

It's important to remember — again as in the example — that most of the time there isn't a thing the train crew can do to forestall tragedy. A freight train simply doesn't come to an abrupt halt when the brakes are applied. And, often, the crew is aware only too late of the existence of snowmobiles that don't belong on the track in the first place.

So the only real protection for snowmobilers is in the strict observance of the law and common sense: Don't use railroad rights of way no matter how open, unused and inviting they seem!

Farm Forum Team Wins Gold Award

STEPHENSON — Seventeen students from the Stephenson High School chapter of the Future Farmers of America met with chapters from Rudyard, Felch, and Sault Ste. Marie at the Fireside Inn in Manistique on Feb. 12 for district leadership contests.

The Stephenson chapters won silver awards in public speaking, demonstration, and parliamentary procedure. The Farm Forum Team won a gold award and will represent the Upper Peninsula District at the regional contest in Gaylord on Feb. 28.

The Farm Forum Team consisting of Dave Dolsky, chairman, Dick LaCasse, Gordon Hubbard, Ken Chaney, Frank Rivard and Randy Hollo discussed job entry by young people into production agriculture and agriculturally related occupations.

Rebekah, IOOF Lodges Plan Supper, Meet

Members of Phoebe Rebekah Lodge 179 and Impellant Lodge 460, IOOF and friends are invited to a 6 p. m. pot-luck supper Saturday, Feb. 21 in the lodge dining room. All attending are to bring a dish to pass for the supper.

At 8 p. m. a public meeting will be held with Ralph H. Yaeckel of the Gardens of Rest Chapel Mausoleum project in charge. He will lecture with slides which will depict the mausoleum story from beginning to end with biblical and historic background. This is an educational, not a sales program.

This will be one of the many projects conducted by the local lodges of the Order of Odd-fellows which will help send students from the local area to the annual, "United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth," in 1971.

Adult Evenings Of Discovery Begin Thursday

The Catholic Church has come a long way in the past few years. Whatever happened to the old Baltimore Catechism? Where will the decisions of the 2nd Vatican Council lead the Church in the future? What about God? Hell? Angels? Saints? Confession? The Church's involvement in social problems? Ecumenism?

To find out about these things attend the "Adult Evenings of Discovery," at St. Anne's Parish Hall each Thursday evening at 7:30 beginning Feb. 19. Everyone is invited to join in these informal evenings of discussion with the Rev. Ted Brodeur, Sister Kathleen and Mr. Ernest Belanger as moderators.

Church Events

Salem Ev. Lutheran
Mid-week Lenten services will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the church. Pastor J. J. Wendland will bring the message, "This Fellow Was Also With Jesus of Nazareth." Organist is Mrs. Kate Ottensman.

Mrs. Dennis J. Chenier (Gordon Nelson Photo)

Brenda C. Robinson, Dennis Chenier Wed

Brenda Christine Robinson of Gladstone and Dennis Joseph Chenier of Rte. 1 Gladstone exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Feb. 14 at All Saints Church in Gladstone.

Officiating at the double ring service at 11 a. m. was Msgr. Matt LaViolette. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Robinson, 565 N. 15th St., Gladstone and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Chenier of Rte. 1, Gladstone.

Bridal Aides
Maid of honor for the bride was Cheryl Ann Coppock of Milwaukee and bridesmaids were Vivian Brunette of Gladstone, Vicki McGillivray of Marquette and Diane Robinson of Ovid, Mich., a niece of the bride.

Serving as best man was Dwayne Beauchamp of Rapid River and groomsmen were Roy McCormack of Escanaba, Gary Shultz of Hermansville and Dale Smith of Gladstone. Seating the guests were David Robinson, brother of the bride and John MacGillis of Flat Rock.

Sherri Robinson of Gladstone, the bride's niece, was the flower girl and Dean Allen

Bible Studies Begin Sunday At Garden

Weekly Bible studies will begin Sunday, Feb. 22 at 7:30 p. m. at the Garden Elementary School, the Rev. J. A. Henry announced. He invites the public to attend the Study and to join in the discussion surrounding the Word of God. He will be using an overhead projector often to further illustrate Bible truths.

"I believe the Bible is relevant today, and offers the answer to man's need for love, comfort, guidance, stability and truth," said Pastor Henry.

The Hiawatha Baptist Missions are sponsoring these meetings. Mr. and Mrs. Henry, both graduates of Western Baptist Bible College, El Cerrito, Calif., were accepted into Hiawatha Baptist Missions in 1962. They served a church in Alberta, Canada before moving to Perkins, where they will continue to hold Sunday morning services and mid-week prayer meetings.

In the past, week-day Bible studies sponsored by the Perkins Baptist Church were well received in Garden. Pastor Henry said, "We hope that by moving the services to Sunday evenings, more people will be able to join in the study of the Bible. Our desire is to be a spiritual help to the people of this community. We want the people to call upon us for comfort and counseling."

Junior and Senior High young people are invited to attend the youth meetings at 6:30. The teens have opportunity to join in discussion and to participate in these training meetings.

All are invited to attend each Sunday, 7:30 p. m. For further information contact Pastor Henry in Perkins, or Dean Head at the Bay de Noc Cafe at Garden Corners.

Karen Peacock, Carl M. Noyes Exchange Vows

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church was the setting Saturday, Feb. 7 for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Karen Dale Peacock and Carl Michael Noyes.

The Rev. Ben Helmer officiated at the 4 p. m. ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Peacock, 314 N. 19th St. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William Noyes of Rte. 2 Escanaba.

Honor attendants for the couple were Bonnie Fish and Joseph Peacock, brother of the bride.

The bride chose for her wedding a street length gown of white textured acetate and cotton fashioned with long lace sleeves and a flowing back panel of nylon organza. A nylon net veil set with pearl beads, completed her attire.

Mrs. Robinson wore for her daughter's wedding a purple knit shift dress with black accessories and Mrs. Chenier chose a navy blue three piece suit. Both mothers were presented orchid corsages.

The wedding reception was held at the Flat Rock Town hall. The newlyweds are now at home at 414 Deeds Ave., Dayton, Ohio. Both young people are graduates of Gladstone High School.

Senior Citizens Plan Bake Sale

TRENNARY — The combined Chatham, Eben, Skandia and Trenary Senior Citizens met at 1 p. m. Monday at the Trenary Townhall. Members of the Gladstone Senior Citizens Club were guests at the meeting.

Future activities of the club include a bake sale and a trip to Mackinac Island, the dates to be announced later. A Valentine lunch was served and special recognition was given to Lempi Pajunen who was celebrating her birthday. Card games were played during the afternoon and the guest prize was presented to Mrs. A.L. Cannon of Gladstone.

The next meeting will be held March 16 at the Chatham Townhall.

Chapter Z, PEO Meets Thursday

Chapter Z, PEO Sisterhood will meet Thursday at 1 p. m. at the home of Mrs. William Leiper, 317 S. 8th St. Mrs. Charles Kaiser and Mrs. Burton Butler are the assisting hostesses.

Following the theme, "A Time To Reach Out," Mrs. Claude Bohn will explain the International Peace Scholarship and Mrs. Fred Johnson, the Educational Fund.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Give Authentic Party For George's Birthday

For the hostess who is both sentimental and patriotic, the month of February offers a bonanza of holidays to celebrate with a party.

Of course, if you've already celebrated Lincoln's Birthday, St. Valentine's feast day, and Mardi Gras, you're probably ready for two aspirin tablets, a weekend of doing absolutely nothing, and finally, a good party idea for Feb. 22.

To help you get George Washington's Birthday party going, here are some interesting suggestions.

Make the theme an authentic dinner party, complete to candlelight as Martha Washington would have given for George.

Authentic Menu

Authentic menu: black-eye pea soup (made the same way as split pea soup), Virginia ham baked with a coat of brown sugar and cloves and basted with white wine, green beans, corn pudding, gingerbread; for dessert, Topsy Cake (recipe in all cookbooks) and tea.

For invitations, cut hatches out of red construction paper. Print, "Come to a Birthday Party for George on Sunday, Feb. 22 at 5."

Tree Branch

For a fun centerpiece: cut a small sturdy branch from a tree. Spray with white paint, then pin cutouts of large red cherries to twigs. On back of each, write a topical question for each guest to answer: "Who was Washington's Secretary of State?" (Jefferson), "Where did Washington live as president?" (New York City), "How many terms did he serve?" (Two), etc.

Party Games

Two classic party games can be adapted to a Washingtonian theme. On the back of each guest (ladies and gentlemen), pin a small sign with the name of some outstanding character of that period. Each person is to guess who he or she is by asking twenty questions.

The other game is Charades. Each team picks a famous quotation or famous incident to act out, i.e., Washington crossing the Delaware, Washington telling his father he cut down the cherry tree, "I cannot tell a lie" or from his inaugural address, "I walk on untrodden ground."

As George Washington himself would have said, at the end, "I cannot tell a lie, it was a great party."

Deacons To Host 20th Century Club Dinner

Deacons of the First United Presbyterian Church are sponsoring their annual 20th Century Club dinner, for persons 65 years of age and older Thursday, Feb. 26 at the church beginning at 6 p. m.

A birthday party theme will be followed and a musical program will be presented. Fred Fisher will also speak on rock collecting.

For reservations or transportation, call the church, 786-2932.

DELORES ANN MOTTARD of Marquette received a Masters of Arts Degree in special education with a certificate in mental retardation from Northern Michigan University in January. She is the former Delores Prestay of Powers and is a graduate of Powers - Spalding High School. Mrs. Mottard has held teaching positions in Michoud, Lansing, Bark River, Marquette, Ishpeming and at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base.

Births

PETERSON—Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Peterson of Rte. 2 Menominee are the parents of a daughter, Kelly Lynn, born this morning, Feb. 18. The infant weighed 7 pounds and 7 ounces at birth and is the first daughter in the family. She has two brothers, Brian and Scott. The Petersons are former Escanaba residents.

McLain Still Gone; Kuhn Studies Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn mulled over the latest developments in the case of Denny McLain today while the Detroit pitcher's whereabouts remained a mystery.

Commissioner Kuhn's disclosure last Friday that his office was examining certain of McLain's "off the field activities," during the 1967 season was followed today by the publication by Sports Illustrated magazine of a copyrighted story which said McLain was a partner in a bookmaking operation during that season.

McLain dropped out of sight following Kuhn's statement Friday and missed a scheduled court appearance Monday over his alleged failure to repay a $7,000 loan received in 1968 from the Citizen's Commercial and Savings Bank of Flint, Mich.

William R. Alkens, the pitcher's lawyer, left Detroit for New York Tuesday night with Commissioner Kuhn reportedly preparing a statement for release today.

But a spokesman for the commissioner denied that any statement would be forthcoming today.

"No," the spokesman said Tuesday night, "there will be no announcement regarding McLain—not tomorrow."

Sports Illustrated, in its copyrighted article, charged that McLain had put money into a bookmaking operation headed by one Jigs Gazell, who operated out of the Shorthorn Steak House in Flint, Mich.

Gazell said Tuesday night that he knew McLain casually while the pitcher was playing the organ at the Flint steak house.

"I said stuff like, 'Hello. How are you? How many games are you going to win?'" Gazell said. "Stuff like that. Everybody asked stuff like that. Everybody that came in the Shorthorn met McLain."

Gazell denied being a bigtime bookmaker.

"I played poker," he said. "Stuff like that, hanging out in gambling joints but that's it. It didn't have anything to do with McLain."

Donald L. Wyant, president of the steak house, denied that his restaurant was ever the base for a bookmaking operation.

In a statement prepared by his attorney, Paul V. Gadola, Wyant said, "These allegations are both utterly false and completely irresponsible. The Shorthorn Steak House had never served as a headquarters of any gambling operation." Wyant's statement continued, "I certainly would not jeopardize my business by permitting any such activity on my premises."

"These allegations are most embarrassing and deeply disturbing to myself and my family and to my employees and their families. The magazine owes an apology to myself and my employees. I have instructed my attorney to publish an immediate retraction of these remarks."

Wyant said he paid McLain $1,000 to perform during 12 days of October, 1967. "During that time, in so far as I know, he conducted no activities at the Shorthorn other than to fulfill his contractual obligations," Wyant said.

The restaurant owner called Gazell "a customer and nothing else."

Robert Leonard, prosecutor of Genesee County in Michigan, where the restaurant is located, said he had turned over information concerning McLain to federal investigators in Detroit probing gambling.

"We're cooperating with the federal task force and we've turned over all of our information concerning the alleged activities of McLain while he was here in Flint," Leonard said. He did not elaborate.

In Washington, the Justice Department did not comment on Sports Illustrated's story.

The magazine also asserted that the injury which sidelined McLain during the final weeks of the 1967 pennant race was incurred when a Cosa Nostra enforcer involved in collecting a $46,000 gambling debt incurred by the bookmaking operation, stomped on McLain's foot.

The pitcher's explanation was that he had hurt himself in a mishap at home.

Meanwhile, Dave Diles, sports director for WXYZ, a Detroit television station, reported that McLain is $150,000 in debt and that the foot injury occurred "in a confrontation with another man."

Hawkeyes Retain Lead In Big Ten

By The Associated Press
Iowa continues to be the big one in the Big Ten.

The surprising Hawkeyes held off Illinois 83-81 Tuesday night for their ninth consecutive Big Ten basketball victory and opened up a two-game lead over idle Purdue. But it wasn't easy.

Illinois led 21-12 before Glenn Vidnovic, Fred Brown and Chad Calabria sparked the 11th-ranked Hawkeyes to a 40-39 halftime lead. The Illini managed leads of 59-56 and 63-60 but Iowa rallied again and went ahead to stay 65-63 on a basket by Brown, who scored 22 points.

John Johnson added 17-15 in the second half—while Vidnovic and Calabria split 30. Illinois' Rich Howat led all scorers with 32.

Iowa was the only member of The Associated Press' Top 20 in action Tuesday. But in other conference races, Rice took a two-game lead in the Southwest Conference while Kansas moved into second place in the Big Eight.

Led by Tom Myer's 36 points, Rice defeated Arkansas 85-73 while the Owls' closest pursuers, Texas Christian and Texas Tech, both lost. Texas beat TCU 96-84 and Texas A&M turned back Tech 82-74, leaving TCU, Tech and A&M all tied for second.

Myer made 15 of 22 floor shots and all six free throws as he matched his career point high...set last season also against Arkansas.

Kansas pulled to within 2½ games of first-place Kansas State in the Big Eight by outscoring Nebraska 23-9 in the last six minutes of the first half and rolling to a 100-87 victory. Dave Robisch, the Big Eight scoring leader, paced the Jayhawks with 32 points and Pierre Russell contributed a career high 25.

Georgia Tech, fresh from weekend triumphs over North Carolina and N.C. State, trounced Georgia State 101-62, behind Rich Yunkus' 40 points. The 6-foot-9 Yunkus set a Tech season record of 654.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati doubled cross-town rival Xavier 85-72 as Jim Ard had 21 points and 19 rebounds. Frank Fitzgerald and Jim O'Brien led a Boston College surge early in the second half that carried the Eagles to a 79-69 upset of tournament hopeful Georgetown.

Army, an annual NIT entry, tied Seton Hall on Jim Oxley's jump shot with 14 seconds left in regulation and then whipped the Pirates 77-69 in overtime.

Don Curnutt's 35 points led Miami of Florida by LaSalle 102-86. Providence ran off 17 straight points in the first half and then held off Canisius 73-70.

Perkins Nips Eagles 61-59

PERKINS — A field goal in the final two seconds of play by Joe Couillard gave the Perkins Yellowjackets a 61-59 victory over the Eben Eagles in a Central League basketball game Tuesday night.

Alex Freberg had tied the score for Eben with just eight seconds left on the clock with a 15-foot jump shot, but Perkins came down the floor and passed to Couillard, who found the hoop from 10 feet away.

Perkins held a 30-29 lead at halftime before Eben took over in the third period 46-43.

Ken Simonsen led the way for Perkins with 16 points and Bob VanDamme added 14. Couillard 13 and Joe Lauscher 13.

Freberg topped all scorers in the game with 19 points and his teammates Joe Goin and Leo Niemi chipped in with 15 and 12 points respectively.

Eben won the preliminary game, 79-51.

Three Schools Now Tied In Great Northern Race

By MIKE TUTT

A forgotten player and his four teammates came through in fine style Tuesday night at the Holy Name High School gym and led the Holy Name Crusaders to a 68-57 victory over the Escanaba Eskymos in a big inter-city rivalry basketball game.

Holy Name's victory also put the Great Northern Conference in a three-way tie for first place between the Crusaders, Eskymos and Menominee Maroons and set up the big meeting Friday between Holy Name and Menominee. All three teams have 6-2 marks in league play. The forgotten player in last night's game was senior Bob McGinn, who played the finest game of his career in his final home appearance in a Crusader uniform. McGinn isn't really regarded as an offensive threat in U.P. basketball circles and Escanaba let him roam about without paying much attention to him. McGinn finished the game with 14 points, all of which came in key situations.

McGinn's four teammates also performed well, all scoring in double figures. Dan Young, another senior, topped all scorers in the game with 19 points, Joe Harvey had 13, Bill Skradski, who was double teamed most of the night, came up with 12 and Steve Kleiman, the third senior on the squad, chipped in with 10.

The lead seesawed back and forth in the first quarter before Holy Name managed to take a six-point lead, 14-8, late in the period. Escanaba cut the margin back to three on a free throw by Tom Kangas and field goal by Bill Dubord, but the Crusaders went ahead by six again on a free throw by Young and field goal by McGinn, giving them a 17-11 lead at the quarter break.

The Crusaders managed to build their lead up to as many as 12 points in the second quarter and took a 32-22 lead into the dressing room at half-time.

A field goal by McGinn and another by Young put Holy Name ahead by 14 points in the early moments of the third period and they held a 44-29 margin a few minutes later before Escanaba started to come to life and cut the margin to seven points, 44-37, on field goals by Gene Timmer, Bob Gauthier and Kangas. Young tossed in another free throw to put Holy Name out in front 45-37 going into the final quarter.

With 6:04 remaining in the fourth quarter, Escanaba's Mike Cousineau scored his first points of the game and followed with another quick one to bring the Eskymos within six points, 51-45. A three-point play by Young gave Holy Name a nine-point bulge again and from then on they had little trouble. Escanaba did manage to come within six points again, 62-56, but free throws by McGinn, Harvey and Young put the game on ice for Holy Name.

Both Harvey of Holy Name and Kangas of Escanaba surpassed the Great Northern Conference record for rebounds in a season in the game. Harvey now has 141 rebounds with two games left and Kangas is right behind him with 135. The old record was held by Terry Dufour of Holy Name with 128. Kangas finished last night's game with 16 rebounds and Harvey had 12.

Kangas also led Escanaba in the scoring department with 15 points, about 10 points below his season average. Bill Dubord helped out with 13 points and Timmer had 11.

Holy Name attempted 60 shots from the field in the game and connected on 27 for 45 per cent, while Escanaba was 22 for 73 for 29 per cent.

The Holy Name junior varsity squad clinched at least a tie for the conference crown in the junior varsity standings by racking up their eighth straight league victory in the preliminary game, 65-40. Dave Lundin paced Holy Name with 15 points and Bill Johnson had 12 for the Eskymos.

Big Bay Trips Engadine Five

NAHMA—Big Bay de Noc chalked up its 14th victory of the 1969-70 basketball season Tuesday night by whipping the Engadine Eagles 84-66 in a non-conference contest.

Big Bay started fast, scoring 25 points in the first period and coming back with 24 in the second to take a 49-18 lead into the dressing room at half-time.

Engadine came alive in the next two quarters and outscored the Black Bears 48-35, but they were unable to cut any deeper into the big first half margin.

Bill Hartman led four Big Bay players in double figures with 24 points, while John Lewandowski had 19, Dave Hardwick 13 and Herb Pomeroy 12.

Engadine's big gun was Ken Gorman, who wound up with 19 points.

Big Bay is now 14-1 for the season with three games left to play. The Black Bears get back into action Friday night at Rock.

The Big Bay seventh grade basketball team notched a 42-22 victory over the Engadine seventh graders in the preliminary game.

Frazier Seeking Action From Clay Only In Ring

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Frazier, the undisputed heavyweight king, lives about nine miles away from deposed champion Cassius Clay in Philadelphia. But the only place Frazier wants to see Clay is in the ring.

Frazier, who gained universal recognition by knocking out Jimmy Ellis in five rounds Monday night at Madison Square Garden, told a news conference Tuesday:

"I don't think nobody in the world can lick me. Clay or anybody else."

He revealed that Clay had called him earlier Tuesday.

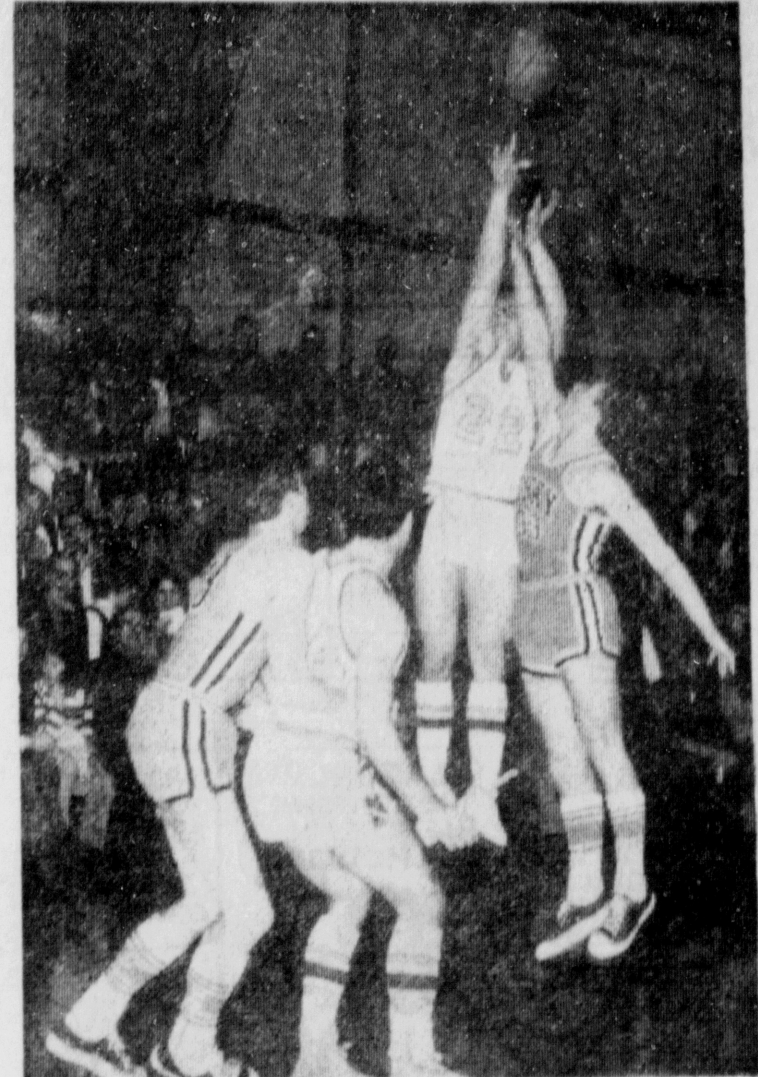

"He told me he thought I put up a good fight and so did Jimmy (Clay's former sparring partner)," Frazier said. "I told him I'll be in the city (Philadelphia) and he'll be living there too and let's have no foolishness. I told him to stay his distance and I'll stay mine. As long as he does we'll get along fine."

Yank Durham, Frazier's manager, said, "He (Clay) might get a license and come back. If he does, we'll fight him. But only in America. He can't go anywhere else anyhow."

Clay was stripped of his title after being convicted of refusing to report for military induction. He is appealing the conviction, but even if he wins the appeal, he has said he will not come back.

But Frazier doesn't feel he must fight Clay to prove his right to the undisputed championship.

"I don't feel I have to whip Clay," said Frazier. "I held one

Knicks Triumph Against Lakers

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Knicks can only be thankful that Dave DeBusschere scores, rebounds and plays defense better than he flips coins.

It has been written many times that DeBusschere's arrival in New York early last season turned the Knicks into winners. The trade that brought him here not only gave the Knicks an all-star forward, but enabled them to switch Willis Reed from forward to an All-Star center.

However, DeBusschere's presence was felt even before Detroit traded him to the Knicks. For it was DeBusschere, as player-coach of Detroit, who got Cazzie Russell for the Knicks.

"Dave called the coin flip," Russell explained Tuesday night after he and DeBusschere had helped the Knicks demolish Los Angeles 114-93 in the National Basketball Association.

Manistique Hosts Anglers In June

Manistique will host the Fifth Annual Exploratory Fishing Trip, sponsored by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, in June. Over 100 recognized sports fishermen have been invited to attend the four day event, June 12-15. It is expected the event will attract editors and outdoor writers, plus manufacturers' and sporting company representatives. The sportsfishermen will be after Lake Trout and Brown Trout in an "under-exploited area off Seul Choix Point," according to the invitation from the DNR. The Fireside Inn and Manistique Motel will be headquarters for the group.

K Of C To Honor Clergy On Monday

The annual Clergy Recognition Night will be held next Monday night at the Knights of Columbus Clubrooms, River St. Louis Vincent is general chairman of the event to which area clergymen have been invited to attend. A special Lenten Mass will be offered at 5 p. m. with Msgr. F. M. Scheringer, chaplain of the local KCs, as celebrant. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. All Knights of Columbus, their wives and girl friends are invited to attend the dinner. A program will follow the dinner.

43 U.P. You'll In Next Draft

LANSING (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters today ordered Michigan local draft boards to deliver 1,360 men for induction into the Army during March. Col. Arthur Holmes, director, said all men scheduled for induction in March will have lottery numbers of 90 or less. Men selected for induction will include class 1-A and class 1-A-O men born on or before Dec. 31, 1950, who have not reached the age of 26. Men are selected for induction in order of their random sequence numbers, the lowest first, but not exceeding the number 90 in March. Previous monthly calls for the year were 1,915 in February and 1,255 in January. Men between the ages of 17 and 26 will continue to be accepted as volunteers for two years of active duty in the Army. An additional approximate 8,000 men are being ordered to take preinduction physical examinations in March. This group will include many college and high school students who will not graduate until May or June. Students are being examined early, but they will not be reclassified by their local boards until the month of graduation, Holmes said. The quotas by local board: Alger 4, Baraga 0, Chippewa 8, Delta 4, Dickinson 3, Gogebic 5, Houghton 0, Iron 0, Keweenaw 0, Luce 2, Mackinac 2, Marquette 12, Menominee 3, Ontonagon 0, and Schoolcraft 0.

Boy Defuses Time Bomb

FOWLerville (AP)—A 14-year-old Westland boy is lucky to be alive, according to Livingston County Sheriff's deputies. Melvin and his cousin Larry Roddenberg, 9, were exploring Larry's father's 240 acre farm near Fowlerville in southern Lower Michigan. They found a bomb in the living room of an abandoned farm house. "I recognized it was a time bomb," said Melvin, "because there was a clock." He ordered his cousin out of the house, and defused it "to protect others," said Melvin. "My dad used dynamite to get rid of tree stumps, and he used blasting caps too." Melvin said he knew that if he could get the cap out it would be safe. He spread the clip attaching the timing device to the cap, and it was safe. The boys then ran to get Larry's father who called the Livingston County Sheriff Department. "That's all there was to it," said Melvin. Sheriff's spokesmen said that the explosives were taken from a truck last August at the Fowlerville fairgrounds. 19 of the explosives still remain missing, apparently in the hands of youthful pranksters. Police authorities said that the bomb was probably planted in the farmhouse so the kids with the bombs could see it blow up.

New Instruments Aid Astronauts

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—New instruments for a 150-foot tower telescope that scans the sun daily may provide information to protect astronauts from harm, scientists say. The computerized control instruments will enable astronomers to measure faster and more accurately the flares of gas on the sun's surface. Better information will permit better prediction of the flares, which produce atomic particles harmful to astronauts in space. Officials at the California Institute of Technology said Sunday the instruments will be installed at the institute's Mt. Wilson Observatory in the mountains near Pasadena.

Score Big Hit

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Clarinetist Benny Goodman, his 17-piece band and vocalist Florence Whittle have scored a big hit in two concerts in Republic Palace. They were cheered by 6,000 Monday after an enthusiastic reception in the same hall the day before. The concerts were sponsored by the Romanian State Organization for Artistic Tours.

The WSCS will sponsor a Pasty Sale Thursday at the United Methodist Church and Gamble Store. Phone advance orders to 341-5491 or 341-5812.

Gladstone Skiers Plan Big Carnival

The Gladstone Ski Club announced today that it will hold its annual winter carnival at the Gladstone Ski Hill on Sunday.

The carnival will begin at noon with cross country races for junior and senior boys and girls. The cross country feature will be followed by the crowning of the carnival queen.

The six contestants for this year's queen are Sue Wilgins, Mary Jo DeKeyser, Joselyn Lindberg, Lori Gabrielson, Judy Watson and Margaret Noraus. All candidates will be judged on skiing ability and poise.

Cornell

Tots 'N' Teens
The Cornell Tots 'N' Teens met Monday evening at the Cornell Townhall and members brought their projects for inspection.

There was a discussion on 4-H trips and it was agreed that if the 4-H Council lacked funds for the trips, the club would help with financing.

Irma Woodard and Dale Ford will represent Cornell as king and queen at County Achievement to be held April 11 in Escanaba. The next meeting will be held on March 9.

Briefly Told

Gladstone city police issued a traffic court notice to John P. Stemick, Kipling, for disobeying a traffic light.

GLADSTONE

MRS. RUTH YOUNGDAHL NELSON of Chicago, will be guest speaker at a Lenten Retreat at First Lutheran Church here on Feb. 24. She is a prolific writer and speaker on religious subjects much in demand.

Mrs. Nelson To Lecture Here

Mrs. Ruth Youngdahl Nelson of Chicago, Ill., will be the guest speaker at a Lenten Retreat held at First Lutheran Church in Gladstone on Tuesday, Feb. 24. All churchwomen are invited to hear her speak at 2:00 and 8:00 sessions at the church.

Mrs. Nelson graduated from Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minnesota and did graduate work at the University of Minnesota.

She is married to Dr. Clarence T. Nelson whose pastorates were in Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Duluth, Minnesota; Washington, D. C.; Saudi Arabia; Geneva, Switzerland; and Chicago, Ill.

She received the District of Columbia 'Mother of the Year' award in 1954, the 'Scandinavian Mother of the Year' in 1955, the Religious Heritage Award in 1959 and the Gustavus Alumni Award.

She has written six books, including God's Song in My Heart, The Woman Beautiful, Where Jesus Walks, Here Am I, Lord, The Christmas Gift and The Christian Woman.

She has spoken to groups from Florida to Alaska, and addressed Protestant Women of the Chapel Rallies in Europe.

The public is invited to attend, and the evening service has particularly been designated as a family program. Nursery service will be provided.

Pickets Protest Priests' Transfer

DETROIT (AP) — Several pickets protested the transfer of their pastor by marching in front of the Archdiocese of Detroit Building Monday.

The members of St. Casimir Parish in Detroit were demonstrating after their priest, Father Joseph Karasiewicz, was transferred to St. John the Baptist Parish in Dearborn Heights.

Father Eugene Wojtowicz was named the successor to Father Karasiewicz.

THE Fair

"Your Family Department Store"

Should you say "SO LONG" to what's not so long?

Ever since so many midis appeared in the designer collections in Rome, Paris and New York, our friends and customers have been asking us if everything they own is going to be obsolete. To make a long story short... everything in your wardrobe is right! The midi will be an ADDITIONAL look, another length to give designers a new dimension.

Spring and summer collections will tell that story... above-the-knee, at-the-knee, just-below-the-knee, ankle lengths, midi-lengths will give you the proper perspective on what might be more important in the Fall. No, you won't be caught short with what you have. And you won't be caught short choosing what YOU like this season... this and every season. The FAIR STORE goes to great lengths to know and have what's right for YOU!

The Mini — the Maxi — the Midi — take your pick from our new collection. Choose the lengths most flattering to you. The FAIR STORE invites you to visit the second floor fashions... to see all that is new for your Spring wardrobe... in the length you want. Junior, misses and half sizes.
